what is junk? junky? junking?

Rabbit is the new bee. We have damned ourselves to a life of possibly flesh-eating—orchid food for the dispossessed, space-junk is the human debt mankind leaves on the planet. Modernization is not modernization remains after modernization while modernization is in program: to share the blessing or meltdown . . . Although intentions, lucidly planned by human intelligence, boosted by infinite computation, their sum is purgatory . . . more than a register on the ugliness, the century that architecture century; we turn into a Architecture the product an incubator the essence the infrastructure hot-air curtain promotes d purgatory . . . Junkspace is the sum total of our current achievement; we have built
